Just read a great article written by a non-muslim woman on Niqab.

Misogynistic mentality is, also, telling women to take off her niqaab and its even more so when they enforce it in a so called liberal western society where freedom of expression apparently exists. If a niqaabi woman complies with all the security measures, by revealing her identity to a female security guard, there should be no reason for her to continue wearing it whether be on college grounds or another public place.
